

Jeremy Kleiman to Speak at the 2024 IAGA International Gaming Summit

May 28, 2024

On Tuesday, May 28th, Jeremy Kleiman will moderate a panel discussion entitled: “Understanding the Sports Betting Complexities Arising From Amateur and College Sports” at the 41st annual IAGA International Gaming Summit in Washington, D.C. The panel will explore the current state of affairs and discuss the numerous potential legal, regulatory and policy challenges and solutions. Joining Jeremy are panelists Christiane Schuman Campbell of Duane Morris; Mark Hicks of the National Collegiate Athletics Association; Jeff Ifrah of Ifrah Law; and Greg Small of the Indiana Gaming Commission.

The IAGA International Gaming Summit is a premier event that brings together leaders from all global gaming sectors. The Summit will provide operators, suppliers, attorneys, investors, bankers, regulators and other advisor delegates with an unparalleled opportunity to meet and discuss the most important issues facing gaming.
