

The Garden State Law Podcast: AI and the Workplace: How Businesses are Leveraging AI in Employment Decisions

July 25, 2023

Artificial Intelligence has played an increasingly important role in how businesses are making employment decisions. From employee recruiting to workplace monitoring, AI is no longer a novel concept and is becoming a staple in the world of human resources. In the latest episode of The Garden State Law Podcast, join Saiber employment attorney Vince Cirilli as he discusses the rapid growth of AI in the world of employment, and what employers should know when utilizing this powerful tool.