Jeffrey Lorell has devoted his professional career to the litigation and resolution of sophisticated, complex, civil cases and alternate dispute resolution proceedings.

He has over 45 years of experience in complex, multi-party, civil litigation, arbitration, and mediation, with an emphasis on all aspects of business and construction litigation, directors and officers defense, fraud, securities, lender liability, antitrust, trademark and unfair competition and subrogation. He has extensive experience in handling litigation and dispute resolution involving the dissolution of professional partnerships and corporations, and employment related matters such as client solicitation, improper use and disclosure of proprietary and confidential information.

Jeff is a trained and experienced Nationally Certified Professional in Mediation who is frequently selected as a neutral party to resolve complex, multi-party disputes through non-binding mediation and a variety of other alternate dispute resolution techniques. He mediates a wide range of disputes, including construction disputes, environmental matters, restrictive covenants and business torts. Jeff holds a National Professional Certification in Mediation as well as a United States District Court Mediation Certification for the District of New Jersey.

In addition, he frequently litigates trademark, copyright, and unfair competition matters and supervises the firm's construction litigation and counseling department. In that role, he represents owners (both public and private, including condominium associations and cooperatives), architects, engineers, construction managers, general contractors, subcontractors, suppliers and insurance companies.
