

David D'Aloia and Alex Banzhaf Present CLE on the Defense of First Party Homeowners Insurance Litigation

June 20, 2019

On June 20, 2019, David D'Aloia and Alex Banzhaf presented a Continuing Legal Education seminar to in-house counsel on the defense of first party homeowners insurance litigation. David and Alex discussed the major legal issues connected with defending homeowners insurance litigation, including general insurance coverage law, the use of exclusions and how to defend bad faith claims. The presentation also explored strategy considerations in defending homeowners insurance litigation, including the use of internal company documents to prove key issues, what to pursue in discovery from your adversary and important aspects of expert witness retention and preparation.