

Gaming Americas Names Jeremy Kleiman to its Advisory Board

May 28, 2020

Jeremy Kleiman was recently named to the newly formed Advisory Board of Gaming Americas, a cutting-edge betting and gaming media platform that provides in-depth news coverage and summits on the gaming industry in North America, Latin America, and South America.

The board includes highly respected professionals at the forefront of the gaming industry across the Americas. Along with serving in an ongoing advisory capacity, the board will be initially tasked with developing the Sports Betting & Casino Summit North America's trending topics for debate, as well as establishing the event as an all-encompassing hub for the gambling and gaming sectors.
