

Jeremy Kleiman Named to Gaming Americas Way Seers Advisory Board

October 28, 2020

Saiber gaming attorney Jeremy Kleiman was recently named to the Gaming Americas Way Seers Advisory Board, a group of gaming industry experts formed to strategically coordinate quarterly meetups, events and virtual conferences offered by GamingAmericas.com.

GamingAmericas.com also announced the launch of its new virtual meetup series which will increase the access to quality information to interested parties and provide opportunities to participate in engaging discussions about the North and Latin American gaming industry. The quarterly meetups will complement the yearly virtual conference and the media/publishing services offered by Gaming Americas.
