

N.J. Human Resources Law Alert (2) - October 2012

September 30, 2012

With the presidential election just around the corner, it is important for employers to understand the rules for allowing employees time off from work to cast their ballots. While there is no federal law that requires employers to allow employees time off to vote, New York's laws guarantee voting leave with certain conditions. Specifically, employers should be aware of the notice and timing issues.
