

Trending Law Blog: Social Media Platforms Under Attack in the Senate

July 22, 2019

In the latest post by Trending Law Blog, Rob Nussbaum discusses new legislation which, if enacted, would remove immunity provided to certain digital companies when they are sued for re-publishing content on their websites that is provided by a third-party.

To read the blog post, click here.