

Trending Law Blog: Social Media Collides with New Jersey's RPCs

June 4, 2020

Source: Trending Law Blog

In a post by Trending Law blog, Rob Nussbaum examines a recent recommendation by the New Jersey Supreme Court's Disciplinary Review Board to admonish an attorney for surreptitiously gaining non-public information about an adverse party in a personal injury action through social media.

To read the post, click here.