

Trending Law Blog: The Supreme Court Gets a Second Shot at an Important First Amendment and Social Media Issue

December 12, 2022

In the latest post by Trending Law Blog, Rob Nussbaum discusses a case heard in the Ninth Circuit that considers whether public officials violate the First Amendment by blocking certain members of the public from commenting on the officials' social media pages.

To read the post, click here.